ARE YOU SINGLE?
Josh Billings writes thus to an old friend about marrying:
By awl means, Joe, get married, if you have a fair show. Don't stand shivering on the bank, but pitch in, and stick your head under, and the shiver is over. Thar ain't any more trick in getting married than thar is in eating peanuts. Menny a man has stood shivering on the shore until the river run out. Don't expect to marry an angel; them hev all bin picked up long ago. Remember, Joe, you ain't a saint yourself. Do not marry for buty exclusively, buty is like ice; awful slippery and thaws dreadful easy. Don't marry for luv, neither; luv is like a cooking stove, good for nothing when the fuel gives out. But let the mixture be some buty becomingly dressed with about $250 in her pocket, a gook spellar, handy and neat in her house, plenty of good sense, tuff constitution and by-laws, a light step, small feet, and sound teeth and a warm heart. The mixture will keep in any climate and will not evaporate. Don't marry for pedigree, unless it is backed by bank notes. A family with nothing but pedigree generally lacks sense.
Now TRY.—It will cost you nothing and will surely do you good, if you have a Cough, Cold, or any trouble with Throat, Chest or Lungs. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to give relief, or money will be paid back. Sufferers from La Grippe found it just the thing and under its use had a speedy and perfect recovery. Try a sample bottle at our expense and learn for yourself just how good a thing it is. Trial bottles free at H. C. Pierce's Drug Store. Large size 50c. and $1.00.
MODES OF BURIAL IN DIFFERENT COUNTRIES.
The Mahometans always, whether in their own country or in one of adoption, bury without coffin or casket of any kind.
During the time of the old Roman Empire the dead bodies of all except suicides were burned.
The Greeks sometimes buried their dead in the ground, but more generally cremated them in imitation of the Romans.
In India, up to within the last few years, the wife, either according to her wishes or otherwise, was cremated on the same funeral pyre that converted her dead husband's remains into ashes.
When a child dies in Greenfield the natives bury a live dog with it, the dog to be used by the child as a guide to the other world. When questioned in regard to this peculiar superstition they will only answer: A dog can find his way anywhere.
The natives of Australia tie the hands of their dead together and pull out their nails; this is for fear that the corpse may scatch its way out of the grave and become a vampire.
The primitive Russians place a certificate of character in the dead person's hands, which is to be given to St. Peter at the gates of heaven.
"In buying a cough medicine for children," says H. A. Walker, a prominent druggist of Ogden, Utah, "never be afraid to buy Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. There is no danger from it and relief is always sure to follow. I particularly recommend Chamberlain's because I have found it to be safe and reliable. It is intended especially for colds, croup and whooping cough." 50 cent bottles for sale by H. C. Pierce, Druggist.
TWO CASTES IN INDIA
The Rock Veddahs are stunted, hideous and filthy; they live in secluded caves and holes; they eat bats and rats, and make their scanty clothing from the bark of trees, but the Singalese regard them as of the very highest caste, and it would be no disgrace for a woman of good social position to marry a Rock Veddeah. On the other hand, the very greatest disgrace that could afflict such a woman would be to marry her to a Rodiya, although these last are a race distinguished for beauty, at least in youth, and gentle and innocent by nature.
The Rodiyas can not enter a temple or a village; they are forbidden to till the soil or draw water from a well; they can not build a house or divide a burden into two bundles; their shadow must not fall on a stream, lest it be polluted; no member of another caste may touch them without disgrace, yet any one may shoot them without blame. All this is supposed to be in consequence of the act of an ancestor two thousand years ago, who inveigled a king into eating human flesh. As a consequence the beautiful race is at the foot of the human scale, the ugly and repulsive at the top.

Montpelier Daily Journal and Vermont Watchman
Tuesday evening October 4, the first number of the Daily Journal for Session of 1892 will be issued.
This issue will contain biographical sketches of the chief officers of the new State government and of the members of the new legislature, with much other interesting matter pertaining to the meeting of the general assembly.
The Daily Journal will contain full and accurate reports of all legislative proceedings, hearings before committees, and everything of interest about the legislature. Always the leading daily for the legislature, and the favorite of the members, we shall make the Journal for the coming session more valuable than ever for its reports of legislative proceedings, and more attractive for its legislative news. Published each evening immediately after adjournment, it always has the earliest, as it has the fullest and most accurate legislative reports and discussions of legislative business.
The Journal will give special attention to important state matters that will come prominently before the new legislature.
The Journal will also be a complete general newspaper, giving the local, state national and foreign news.
The Daily Journal will be indispensable to all Vermont people who desire to have the news from the capital.

Estate of Austin Mossman.
STATE OF VERMONT, DISTRICT OF ORLEANS ss. In Probate Court, held at Barton Landing in said District on the 24th day of September, A. D. 1892.
Clara A. Mossman, Administratrix of the estate of Austin Mossman, late of Craftsbury, in said District, deceased, makes application for license to sell the real estate of said deceased, described as follows, to wit: One equal undivided half of the farm, in Craftsbury, owned and occupied by him at the time of his decease, representing that a sale thereof is necessary to raise money to pay the debts due from said estate. Whereupon it is ordered by said court that said application be referred to a session of the Probate Court to be held at the Office in Barton Landing, on the 13th day of October, A. D. 1892, for hearing and decision thereon. And it is further ordered that notice hereof be given to all persons interested by publication of the same three weeks successively in the Monitor, a newspaper published at Barton, previous to said time appointed for hearing, that they may appear at said time and place and show cause, if any they may have, why said license should not be granted.
By the Court—Attest.
